Gather Formidable Fighting Force in Balkans Awaiting War's Test

BRITISH ARE CLOSING IN

On Two French Towns Held By Germans While the French Troops Fight to Retain Advantages Recently Gained—Italians Inactive in Gorizia Region—Turks Worry Russians

The Associated Press gives the following summary of the day's war reports from European capitals:

Political developments in the Balkans overshadow interest for the moment even over the important military operations in progress there, but today's dispatches throw little new light on the situation from either political or military standpoint.

In connection with the attitude of Rumania the course of the Russian campaign in Bukovina close to the Rumanian frontier has been closely watched. The latest advices from Teutonic sources, however, declare that the Russians are being held up by the Teutonic resistance, not only in the Carpathian fighting but along the entire front to the north in Galicia and Volhynia.

With Russian and Italian troops added to the French, British and Serbian forces already in the field, the allies have a formidable array of fighting men on the Macedonian front. So far, however, its strength has not been exerted to marked effect. The Bulgarians have pushed back both wings and it is only in the center, in the Vardar valley that entente advances have been scored. It seems not improbable that this region, which offers superior tactical facilities because of the line running through it from Saloniki to Uskup, has been selected as the main avenue along which the entente thrust is to be made.

On the western front, along the Somme, the British continue closing in on Triepval, on their left flank, and apparently have Guilleumont on their right, almost within their grip. South of the Somme, the French are now being forced to fight hard for the retention of the trenches captured early this week in the vicinity of Estres, and Paris reports today that the Germans, through a strong counter-attack were able to gain a footing in their former trenches.

The Italians are continuing passive in the Gorizia area, so far as their infantry is concerned, but their artillery is showing marked activity while the work of consolidating the ground won east and southeast of the captured town is being completed. They have also launched a new aggressive movement in the Dolomites, the Alpine region on the far northern front, however, and report the capture of important Austrian positions on the Tofana heights.

The Turks have recently been pressing the Russians hard in southern Turkish Armenia have also attempted an offensive along the Black Sea coast but Petrograd reports today that they were defeated in this movement and driven back with the aid of the Russian Black Sea fleet.

EPIDEMIC DOES NOT GAIN WHEN MERCURY CLIMBS

New York, Aug. 23.—New York's record breaking heat wave has failed to spread the epidemic of infantile paralysis. Only a slight gain was shown today in the number of deaths and now cases reported. During the 24-hour period ending at 10 a. m. the plague killed 42 children and 131 were stricken. This compares with 39 deaths and 118 cases during the same period yesterday.

ITALIANS GAIN NEW POSITIONS IN ALPINE REGION

Rome, Aug. 23, Via London.—The Italians are making a strong and successful thrust at the Austrian lines in the Alpine region on the extreme northern front, according to today's war office announcement. Italian troops have carried strong Austrian positions in the Tofana area in the Dolomites and in the Travenanzes valley.

If the petition is granted, with the special stipulation that creditors be restrained from interfering with the receivers.

RUSSIANS LOSE 5,000 DEAD IN 3-DAYS BATTLE

Berlin, Aug. 23, By Wireless to Sayville.—A correspondent of the Cologne Gazette on the Russian front says that in the fighting near Horodenka in eastern Galicia from August 14 to 17 the Russians lost 5,000 killed, while the total German casualties was 80.

"If the enemy continues to squander enormous quantities of ammunition in addition to suffering very heavy losses, his final exhaustion is inevitable," the correspondent says.

Auto Bandits Kill Columbus Policeman And Then Escape

Columbus, Aug. 23.—Columbus police are today combing the city in an attempt to apprehend two automobile bandits, thought to be robbers, who last night shot and fatally wounded Officer John Laufhutte. The patrolman noticed the men repairing a tire on their machine and when he approached the car discovered a rifle and several pistols in the tonneau. As he turned away to go to an adjacent saloon, apparently to summon assistance, one of the men fired up on him, the bullet penetrating the left lung. Laufhutte turned and fired three shots at the men, who answered the fire and then turned and ran off, leaving their machine. The wounded man was hurried to a hospital, where he died later.

Laufhutte is survived by his mother, wife and three children. He was 31 years old and had been on the police force but a short time.

The mercury in the weather bureau's Kiosk registered 84 at 9 A. M., as against 82 at the same hour yesterday. The humidity was 77 as compared with 58 at 9 A. M. yesterday.

SENATE

Passes Army Appropriation Bill Embodying Revised Articles of War

HOUSE WILL ACCEPT IT

Takes Place of Bill Vetoed By President Wilson Because of Objection to Exemption of Retired Army Officers—War Department Approves of New Articles of War

Washington, Aug. 23.—The army appropriation bill with revised articles of war approved by the war department was passed today by the senate and now goes back to the house where the amendment is expected to be accepted. President Wilson vetoed the bill because the revision on the bill previous to passage gave exemptions to retired officers which the war department disapproved.

Governor Willis Orders Probe of Columbus Taxes

Columbus, Aug. 23.—Governor Willis, in a telegram from Maine where he is making campaign speeches, today ordered the state tax commission to probe charges that the Franklin county board of revision has arbitrarily raised the taxes of the citizens of Columbus and Franklin county. The state tax body immediately began investigation.

County Auditor Valentine announced today that he would repudiate the alleged wholesale taxation boosts and decline to place them on the duplicate. Charges have been made that the county board, without hearings, has arbitrarily raised the valuations on personal property from $100 to $1000, in some instances more than fifty per cent.

Governor Willis' telegram ordering the probe said that such arbitrary increases as the Franklin county board is alleged to have made were not in harmony with the spirit of the new Parrott-Whittemore tax law and that if any injustice has been done by the board it should be corrected.

Cleveland Plans a Big Lake For Water Supply

Columbus, Aug. 23.—Construction of an immense artificial lake near Chagrin Falls, in order to insure an adequate water supply to Cleveland manufacturers will be asked at the Ohio legislature this winter by manufacturers from Cleveland and vicinity, it was learned today.

Those interested in the movement have gathered data and have made plans which have been submitted to the state board of public works. The board of public works today announced that it will submit an estimate of the cost of such a project to the state budget commission and through the budget commission to the legislature. However, the board denied that it would make any recommendations regarding the proposition.

Cleveland manufacturers who are back of the plan assert that it would benefit the manufacturers of the whole upper Cuyahoga Valley, including those in Cuyahoga, Summit, Portage and Geauga counties. The feeding canals from the lake could be used for transportation purposes, the backers said.

SUCCESS

OF NEW BALKAN CAMPAIGN WOULD MEAN CAPITULATION OF TURKEY.

Fortune of neutrals, Greece and Rumania Affected by New Offensive—Latter to Join Allies.

London, Aug. 23.—Developments in the Balkans take first place in both news and editorial columns of the newspapers this morning. The papers display keen interest not only in the landing of the Italian and Russian troops at Saloniki, but also in possible actions by the Greek and Rumanian governments and in the new Russian offensive which is developing in Bukovina.

According to unofficial dispatches, the Russians are pushing ahead with the greatest energy in Bukovina, close to the Rumanian frontier and already have gained a "very brilliant success." The Daily News in an editorial sums up the Balkan situation as follows:

"The imminent general offensive against Bulgaria is of great importance. One of the first results of a successful offensive by General Sarrailh would be a complete rupture of Germany's communication with the east and the isolation and capitulation of Turkey. This is a plain geographical fact.

"There are also other issues upon which it is wise to reflect than to enlarge. These affect the fortunes of the two neutrals, Greece and Rumania, as well as the dozen belligerents.

"The situation in Greece, where Greek troops already actually are engaged in hard fighting with their traditional enemies, the Bulgars, is rich in possibilities. As to the intentions of Rumania, we may be content to draw upon the German press, which is authority for the statement that Rumania definitely has joined hands with the entente and is preparing to give Russian troops passage through their territory. It is difficult to conceive what motive the Germans could have for circulating such a statement other than the belief that it is true."

AUSTRIANS DENY FAMINE REPORTS IN ALBANIA

Berlin, Aug. 23.—(By wireless to Sayville.)—The Austro-Hungarian troops in Albania, have been reinforced recently, according to official information from Vienna, which was given out today by the Overseas News Agency. This statement was made to controvert a report from French sources that Austro-Hungarian troops had been withdrawn and that in consequence there was famine in Albania and widespread agitation.

Equally untrue, it is said, are assertions that rebellions have broken out in Montenegro.

"For seven months the Austro-Hungarian authorities have had in operation a well regulated administration which distributes food and enforces hygienic safeguards," the statement says.

"Relief work on a large scale has been undertaken and an epidemic was stopped. The Montenegrin population is calm and satisfied."

RAILROAD

Employees Grow Restless Because of Delay in Reaching Agreement

DISCONTENT IS SPREADING

Leaders Have Difficulty In Preventing Drastic Action By Men Who Believe Railroad Executives Are Playing for Time—Administration Officials Believe They Will Agree

Washington, Aug. 23.—The railroad employees' committee showed such marked signs of unrest today at the delay in the negotiations between President Wilson and the railway executives that the leaders of the men were alarmed and openly expressed fears of their ability to hold them much longer.

An employees meeting this morning was thrown into an uproar by speeches of a minority which demanded immediate action unless the roads accept the President's plan, but the leaders succeeded in adjourning it before any vote could be taken on any of the various proposals. They said afterwards that while the pressure for immediate action came from a minority, it was strong, but they believed the majority would be willing to give the President a little more time.

Some of the men urged that most of them go to the streets and call a strike if the railroads do not accept the President's plan.

The meeting adjourned until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. "It is our belief," one of the committee men said, "that the railroads are playing for time with the President, just as they have done with us for many months. There is no reason why they should not have given the President an answer by this time. They are tiring us out all right and the men are getting disgusted with the whole situation. I think there are enough cool headed committee men here to control the meetings a day or two longer, but the discontent is spreading rapidly."

While the railroad executives continued deliberations on what form of counter proposal they shall make to President Wilson's plan the President conferred with Senator Newlands and Representative Adamson, chairman of the interstate commerce committee in congress, about the bill to increase the membership of the interstate commerce commission by two.

Senator Newlands afterward announced he would push his bill immediately. The development was taken to indicate a movement for sending the investigation features of the President's plan to the commission. Possibility of passing an eight-hour law for railroads was discussed among several congressional leaders. A definite program was evolved and it was understood no action would be taken unless the President's efforts failed.

In administration circles today it was declared that both the President

Granville

(Special to The Advocate)

Granville, August 22.—One of the most unique and delightful functions ever held in Granville was the celebration of the fiftieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. George McCord on Tuesday, August 22, at high noon, on the top of Sugar Loaf. No pains nor expense had been spared in preparing for this impressive ceremonial, as substantial tables had been built at which the dinner guests were seated, and a low platform erected from which the officiating minister of 60 years ago, Rev. C. N. Harford, made an eloquent and gracefully worded speech in which he paid the highest tribute to this well loved couple who plighted their troth half a century ago, when scarcely out of their teens, down in old Muskingum county. There all of their life was spent until eight years ago, when they came to Granville to make their home with their children, Mr. and Mrs. Charles McLees in West Broadway. All of the principals in the original wedding, the bride and groom, the minister and some six or eight of the guests assembled on the platform and there the minister called Mrs. McLees, adopted daughter of the couple, with her husband, to receive the greetings and congratulations of the company. All the decorations were of the rich golden glow, the presents were numerous and handsome and the dinner, a triumph of culinary skill. The reading of James Whitcomb Riley's "That Old Sweetheart of Mine," by Mrs. J. E. McGaw, in her happiest manner, gave an added touch of enjoyment to a notable occasion. (Associated Press Telegram)

Cotter, Ark., Aug. 23.—J. F. Today he was astonished at receiving a letter from B. E. Bush, of St. Louis, receiver of the road, commending him for his action.

"Your act proved that railroad officials and employees place the interests of humanity above even railroad discipline," wrote Mr. Bush.

And above all we want to assist in the education of the boys and girls who are being brought up on the farms," Mr. Mosser said. "We want to increase the possibilities for Licking county."

Homer C. Price, William Hall, Harry Davis and several members of the Improvement Association made short speeches.

Three committees were appointed to get in touch with the farmers residing in the respective sections and report the sentiment of the community at the next regular meeting to be held in two weeks.

Last night's meeting was the first of a series to be held in the 28 townships of the county.

The agricultural bureau composed of Chairman Homer C. Price, John C. Krieger, A. A. Stasel, William Hall and J. S. Graham, will meet in the chamber of commerce rooms Friday night at 7:30 to agree on the campaign acquainting the people in the 28 townships of the purposes of the farm movement. The bureau will set in motion the machinery which will ultimately result in the organization of the farm district into a separate organization, with farmers as presiding officers. This organization will have charge of building up the agricultural commerce in Licking county.

IF BACKACHE OR KIDNEYS BOTHER

Eat less meat and take a glass of Salts to flush out Kidneys—Drink plenty water.

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish, ache, and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy; the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush off the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad.

Eat less meat, drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink while everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

HAVE DARK HAIR AND LOOK YOUNG

Don't stay gray! Nobody can tell when you darken gray, faded hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and abundant with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, ready to use, for about 50 cents. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful. This preparation is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

DOCTOR SAYS NUXATED IRON WILL INCREASE STRENGTH OF DELICATE PEOPLE 200% IN TEN DAYS

In many instances—Persons have suffered untold agony for years, doctoring for nervous weakness, stomach, liver or kidney disease or some other ailment when their real trouble was lack of iron in the blood—How to tell.

New York, N. Y.—In a recent discourse Dr. E. Bauer, a well known specialist who has studied widely both in this country and Europe, said: "If you were to make an actual blood test on all people who are ill you would probably be greatly astonished at the exceedingly large number who lack iron and who are ill for no other reason than the lack of iron. The moment iron is supplied to the mal-adequately nourished system, the various ailments of the blood at once disappear. Without iron the blood at once loses the power to change food into living tissue and therefore nothing you eat does you any good; you don't get the strength out of it. Your food merely passes through your system like corn through a mill with the mill-rollers so wide apart that the mill can't grind. As a result of this continuous blood and nerve starvation, people become generally weakened, nervous and all run down and frequently develop all sorts of conditions. One is too thin; another is burdened with unhealthy fat; some are so weak they can hardly walk; some think they have dyspepsia, kidney or liver trouble; some can't sleep; others are irritable and tired all day; some are fussy and irritable; some are thin and bloodless, but all lack physical power and endurance. In such cases it is worse than foolishness to take stimulating medicines or narcotic drugs, which only whip up your flagging vital powers for the time being, maybe at the expense of your life later on. No matter what any one tells you, if you are not strong and well you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of

MAMMOTH CROWD EXPECTED FOR AUTO CLUB'S BIG PICNIC

CONVENTIONS FOR 1917 TO BE SOUGHT; WANT INFORMATION

To make Newark one of the leading convention cities in the state and set up a standard of hospitality that will be hard to reach by other cities, was the program outlined today by H. F. Darrow, chairman of the publicity and convention bureau of the Chamber of Commerce, in announcing the first step of his committee.

A survey will be made of Newark's convention possibilities which when completed will be unlike that of any other city the size or even larger. But to succeed in this line of endeavor, Chairman Darrow points out the necessity of co-operation by Newark people. Every one will have an opportunity next year to say "well I assisted in bringing this crowd here."

The survey to be taken by the members of the publicity and convention bureau, Mr. Darrow said would be along the lines of first finding out to what extent the city can handle convention crowds.

Every citizen will be asked to lend his support to this survey by clipping a coupon from either of the newspapers, the same to appear tomorrow night, and sending it to the Chamber office. The blanks will inquire how many rooms there are available in the city, in hotels, boarding houses and private dwellings; who will throw their home open to visitors and how many each home can accommodate. The hotels will be asked the number of rooms they can assign without interfering with their commercial trade.

The price of rooms for a day, two days or more will be ascertained, whether meals can be obtained in connection and for what price. Restaurants also will be asked to contribute to the survey by giving the number of people they can handle and the rates per meal.

When the survey is completed printed slips will be made and recorded in the bureau files, showing just what Newark has to offer in the way of entertaining visitors.

Information concerning all the halls in the city, the renting and seating capacity will be contained in the survey and in fact everything which will be essential to entertaining a convention ground will be ascertained.

(When all this is done members of the bureau say they will be in a position to talk convention to any organization in the country, no matter whether it is large or small. Because the bureau will have at finger tips everything Newark has to offer.

"If the convention bureau wants to land a convention," Mr. Darrow said, "we'll take our slips with us and start after the meeting. Our arguments will be backed by facts showing that Newark can successfully handle all the delegates the organization can send."

"Conventions are one of the most important assets to a town," he continued, "because of two reasons. The money they bring into the town and the personal publicity given by the delegate who has enjoyed himself. Often it results in bringing many new families in the place where the men are progressive and where business is booming."

Every labor, social and fraternal organization in the city will be asked to send a representative to the Chamber and go over the prospects of bringing their organization's convention here."

"The number of conventions which now are possibilities next year in this city, will mean that approximately more than $100,000 would be brought here and left during the year," Mr. Darrow said. "This amount may seem large but when the average amount of money spent by a convention visitor is $5 a day the sum soon grows."

The coupons will be printed in each paper tomorrow and the co-operation of every person in Newark is solicited in filling out the blank so that the bureau at work on the survey will know just what Newark can do in caring for next year's convention delegates.

Ohio Senatorship.

The amount of money expended to bring about the nomination of Myron T. Herrick for United States senator from Ohio is worth noting. And it should be compared with the amount expended by ex-Governor Herrick's opponent, Senator Atlee Pomerene. Without including the expenditures of the various Herrick voters' leagues throughout the state accounts filled with the secretary of state show that over $50,000 was spent to get the nomination away from Harry Daugherty. Mr. Herrick personally spent $20,408.36. The Cleveland league for Herrick spent $29,000.

Former Governor Herrick brings back in the political field the old time game. This is like "the good old days" of George B. Cox and Marcus A. Hanna. What is behind the contest that a man can spend more for the nomination alone than his six years' salary amounts to? Atlee Pomerene spent just $667. He made no deals with any one and no one made any for him.

There is contrast in Pomerene's record and Herrick's record. There is significance in the amount Herrick expended. The father who has hope and ambition for his son will think over this condition. If United States Senatorships can be bought in the open market what chance will the average boy have in the future? The answer should be given in the November ballot box—it's up to the voters.

In Ohio the Republican organization will have more money than ever this year. In the nation the fund has already grown beyond belief. The big interests do not spend money without hope of return.

Carriage Makers Still Alive.

This is called the horsetless age. Yet the last census figures show an annual production of 1,187,000 horse drawn vehicles. Of these 558,400 are buggies, mostly used for pleasure purposes and light business. The carriage makers, far from giving up the ghost, have just announced their 44th annual convention at Cincinnati soon.

Theoretically a cheap automobile is as inexpensive as a horse and carriage. It certainly is if the horse is a fair roader, is well fed, and if carriages are maintained in good order.

But many people have always run a horse and carriage on a very inexpensive basis. They buy old horses and cheap or second hand carriages for trifling sums. The horses are fed in pastures without any payment in cash. Carriages are allowed to go unpainted and unwashed.

It costs but little to operate these outfits. Their owners are not proud, they have no social pretensions, they are philosophically content to jog along at five or six miles an hour. A freshly painted carriage would make their working clothes look dingy. They get lots of pleasure out of these homely and inexpensive rigs, and their daily work is facilitated by them.

In this way a market is created for cheap and second hand vehicles, that tends to keep carriage makers busy. While fine turn-outs are not very common nowadays, a good many people still love horseflesh, and demand handsome and substantial carriages. Tradespeople still make big use of horses and wagons for delivery and trucking purposes. The average grocery boy is hardly fit to be trusted with the complicated mechanism of an automobile.

The horse is still the great democratic motive power. The carriage makers will live for many a day to provide his equipment.

Be Patriotic.

Every motorist in this broad land of ours should display an American flag on his car, the cost of which need only be a few cents. A lot of us have gone to the extreme in displaying pennants, kewpie-dolls, whirling policemen, mannikins and a lot of trash.

There is no more beautiful decoration on an automobile than a small American flag attached to the radiator cap. The Ohio State Automobile Association urges every one of its members to carry a flag until the end of the Mexican unpleasantness, as an incentive to patriotism and preparedness.

It is useless for any Presidential candidate to take up the issues of the campaign until he has been photographed at the ball grounds showing proper enthusiasm and familiarity.

After giving their hearty sympathy to the railroad men in their fight for an eight hour day, millions of our housewives would probably be pleased to see their hours reduced to twelve.

With calm confidence the automobile driver lets'er out to 40 miles an hour, secure in the fact that he is all right so long as no one of 117 different things shall happen.

After sitting quietly with their hats on while the American flag is displayed, many men will take them off and wave them frantically if a baseball pennant is in sight.

On the stump the candidates must talk about the economies that will be made, while in committee rooms and hotel lobbies, about the jobs that can be secured.

According to the official war bulletins, when the enemy retreats it is a disorderly rout, when our side retreats it is a strategic re-grouping.

Both sides in the railroad controversy are willing to arbitrate everything except their own demands and those of the other side.

Much is said about Pitiless Publicity, and the Summer Girl is certainly giving it to that sun-baked open throat of hers.

A great many people are convinced that everyone can get their wages raised without increasing the cost of living.

Suppose Hughes Had Stayed Home?

(New York Times.)
Suppose Justice Hughes had followed the example of McKinley, Cleveland and Harrison. Instead of Bryan, Parker, Roosevelt and Taft, and had stayed home. It is not easy to restore the picture of him as the popular imagination conceives him two months ago, but with a little effort it can be done. He was remembered as a strong man in the Governorship of New York, as a man of ideas and principles and convictions; too many people thought, rather than too few. His telegram of acceptance gave the idea that during his years on the bench he had been filling with silent indignation over policies that he thought were endangering his country, and that he could pour out his fiery scorn, could sound a trumpet that would wake the people to revolt, could electrify his audience of a hundred millions and create a great campaign.

Now, suppose he had stayed at Bridgehampton from then until election. No doubt his silence would have mystified and angered many voters; there would have been a constant demand that he speak out. It will be remembered that McKinley suffered a good deal of denunciation for his silence in 1896. But the Hughes of the popular imagination would not have been destroyed; there would have been nothing to prove that he was the strong man, the man of ideas. When he was imagined to be but there would have been nothing to disprove it. No matter how much party orators might have inveighed against him as a masked candidate, a man of mystery, the confidence of his own party would not have been disturbed. Even those who assailed him would have had an uncomfortable feeling that there was something menacing and terrible in this silence. Those who supported him would have believed it; they would have had warrant, for they could point to the Hughes of 1905 for proof that he was strong in character, high in motive and fearless in grappling with great problems. Whatever happened, they would not in three short weeks have been reduced to stammering and apology and discomfort; they would not have been saying miserably, "Oh, but wait; he hasn't struck his gait yet; give him time." And President Wilson would not have had occasion to make that blistering comment on the character of Mr. Hughes' campaign—that silent but terrific comment that he delivered when, having made all his preparations for an active fight on the stump, he changed them after watching Mr. Hughes' performance for two weeks, and decided that it was not necessary and he would stay home.

"Heavy Hand" of the President.

(Baltimore Sun.)
Was Senator Cummins, the Progressive Republican, striking an underhand blow at Mr. Hughes, the not altogether Progressive candidate of the Republican party, when he said that there had not been a single important measure passed by congress since March 4, 1913, with regard to which congress has not felt the "heavy hand" of the president upon it?
The chief complaint which Mr. Hughes makes against the president is that the latter is a weak and vacillating creature who does not know his own mind and who is altogether inefficient. Such a man has no heavy hand to lay upon any one. Such a man can coerce no one, because he has no power of coercion. Yet Mr. Cummins complains that the President has been dominating congress.

Hughes' Speeches.

(New York Evening Post.)
General criticism of Mr. Hughes' attacks upon the Administration is that they are non-constructive while some assert them petty. But the most far-sighted candidate cannot be constructive about everything, and neither our foreign policy, nor national extravagance, nor high standards in the civil service can be called petty. Mr. Hughes' procedure has been to take up one act after another of the Administration's, and denounce it without reference to any apparent fixed principles which would bring his attacks into harmony and unity. Many hoped that the Republican nominee would translate their own general dissatisfaction with Wilson's record into one fundamental criticism, as illuminating as a shaft of light. Instead, Wilson is denounced for his Mexican course, his European course, his attitude on the tariff, the fact that the navy is undermanned, the showing of the militia, the high cost of living, a few bad appointments, an enlarged budget, much as if the campaigner put his hand into a hatful of slips for a text at each new town. No wonder that there seems confusion in the Republican campaign under such a process. One commentator on the Hughes speeches calls for a "chase line." The candidate has certainly failed thus far to drive a Roman road through the campaign issues.

Wall street betting odds have dropped from 2 to 1 on Hughes to 6 to 5. Is it possible that if Mr. Hughes hadn't been making speeches the odds might still have prevailed?—Springfield Republican.

Did You Know
That Prince Rupert's Drops are scientific toys so called from Prince Rupert, their inventor? They are simply drops of glass thrown, when melted, into water and thus suddenly consolidated. They have usually a form somewhat resembling a tadpole. The thick end may be subjected to smart hammering on an anvil without its breaking; but if the smallest fragment of the tail be nipped off, the whole flies into fine dust with almost explosive violence. The phenomenon is due to the state of strain in the interior of the mass of glass, caused by the sudden consolidation of the crust. The crust is formed while the internal mass is still liquid.

Hard Times.
The idle car surplus is down to 10,000. A year ago it was 264,000. Mr. Hughes is trying to convince the country that the increased use of cars is altogether due to munitions; that there are 254,000 more cars hauling munitions than there were a year ago. To this desperate extreme has the Republican candidate been reduced. Persons who occasionally pass freight yards and see every variety of merchandise being unloaded know a great deal better than this. But Mr. Hughes has got to talk about something, and he can't confine himself to Mexico. He doesn't dare say anything about the German submarine campaign, and he feels obliged to tell the American public that terribly hard times are at hand. Well, there were terribly hard times when Theodore Roosevelt was President and the Dingley bill was in force.—Philadelphia Record.

The Children's Play Corner

"Have You Seen My Sheep?"

For this game the players stand in a circle. One walks around on the outside and, touching one of the circle players on the back, asks, "Have you seen my sheep?" The one questioned answers, "How was he dressed?" The outside player then describes the dress of some one in the circle, saying, for instance: "He wears a red necktie. He is dressed in gray and has low shoes." The one questioned then names the player whom he thinks this describes and, if right, at once begins to chase him around the outside of the circle.

In this game a player must be very alert to recognize himself in the given description, for immediately he must be chased by the player who guesses his description. Should the runner be tagged before returning to his place he must take the questioner's place, running around the outside of the circle and asking of some player, "Have you seen my sheep?"

Each member is carrying out a definite program under the motto, "Be prepared," and all are committed to the scouts' obligation to do their duty to God and to their country, to obey the scout laws, to help other people at all times and to keep physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight.

Milady's Boudoir

Did you realize, Milady, that it is possible you do not always sit gracefully?

Perhaps you have never given it a thought, and now it is time that your old friend, the cheval mirror, would help you to remedy the fault. Draw up a chair before the faithful reflection and seat yourself. Notice whether you sit down heavily, whether you unconsciously grip the arm of the chair and lower yourself, whether you flop down quickly, as if to get it over with or whether you slowly unbind and relax and sink gracefully back.

Quite likely the latter achievement is beyond you as yet, if you have been too busy a woman to give much thought to your attractiveness heretofore.

In sitting the body should be well back in the chair. If the muscles are well trained the spine should not quite touch the chair. If they lack

Our Boys and Girls

To make a novel toy, a good-sized shoe box, some paste and a supply of small colored pictures with perhaps a few postcards are all that is required. First cut a hole in the end of the box about as large as a dollar. Then from an old mail order catalogue or magazine cut colored pictures of rugs or carpets and cover the bottom of the box inside. At the end opposite the hole paste a postcard or other picture that will give the effect of distance, as one which looks down a street, or a scene across fields or hills. Also cover the sides of the box with pictures that show distant scenes.

Then cut small figures of all kinds—children, animals, automobiles, or anything you like—leaving a small bit of paper at the bottom to fold back so they will stand up, and paste them to the rug, arranging them so all of them can be seen. Over the top of the box paste a sheet of white tissue paper and then hold the box so a good light will fall on this paper; then behold what a wonderland you have.

Every Day Etiquette

I have been chosen on many occasions as a chaperone for my daughter and her young friends, and I have often wondered if I did the part correctly. What would you say were the duties of a chaperone?" asked Mrs. Brown of a lady noted for her ease and grace in social ways.

"Well it is her duty to arrive promptly at the appointed meeting place, to be cheerful, amiable, and maintain proper dignity. She will be introduced to all members of the party with whom she is not already acquainted. She must not leave the young girls under her care until she has seen them all safely to their doors, or knows that they will be returned home under reliable escort," replied her friend.

THE ROSES.

A white rose bloomed in beauty,
A red rose faded in pride,
The white rose drooped and faded,
The red rose bent and died,
But in the quiet old garden

The dew gave each a tear.

A white rose sent her fragrance
To cheer a weary brain,
A red rose smiled to gladden
A soul that sighed in vain,
And when the moonbeams scattered
Their gold upon each breast
Alike she lowered the roses
Since each had done her best.

THE INITIAL PRODUCTION BIG SUCCESS

"The Little Lady From Lonesome Town," a four-act melodrama written especially for Nancy Boyer by George M. Rosener of New York, had its initial production at the Auditorium theatre in this city yesterday afternoon, playing to a capacity audience. The performance was repeated last night when Manager Penberg was forced to display the S. R. O. sign, disappointing many who were unable to obtain reservations.

The scenes of the play are laid in a California mining town and in a mansion in Los Angeles. The plot as conceived by the author gives all the characters of the play an equal opportunity to display their ability, and especially the star, Nancy Boyer.

It was with trepidation that Miss Boyer assumed the role that meant so much to her. It was the leap from leading lady of a repertoire company to stardom.

The verdict was pronounced by one of the city's representative audiences. It need only be necessary to state that every character was applauded or hissed and Miss Boyer received ovation after ovation. She was forced to respond to many curtain calls and after the third act the audience would not be satisfied until she made a speech. Miss Boyer was equal to the occasion and graciously thanked her friends for their cordial appreciation of her efforts.

Then the audience wasn't satisfied. It wanted to see the author and Miss Boyer brought him out upon the stage and introduced him as "author."

Mr. Rosener is not only a playwright but he is a polished orator and as he thanked the audience it was apparent that he was not only a playwright but he is a polished orator and as he thanked the audience it was apparent that he was not only a playwright but he is a polished orator.

His partner in a New York office, George J. Wetzel, came from New York to pass opinion on the merits of the play and the members of the company. He left last midnight for home with Mr. Rosener and there was a self satisfied smile upon his face. He is a composer of operettas and musical comedies.

Of the company all deserve special mention for they handle their parts exceedingly well. Henry Testa, manager of the company, contracted with the best actors that could be procured in the metropolis. He did not spare expense in staging the production and it is predicted that the new play will make a hit over the international circuit, which includes the largest cities in the United States.

The company left this morning for Kendallville, Ind., where it will show tomorrow night. Friday night a production will be given at Kalamazoo, Mich., and then the opening of the international circuit will take place Sunday at Detroit in the Lyceum theatre.

The members of the company made many friends while rehearsing in this city, all of whom will wish them, together with Miss Boyer the greatest of successes in the seasons to come.

cold and unsympathetic ways of the law. This big drama in seven parts is featured by Dorothy Kelly, Harry Morey, Donald Hall and Master Bobby Connelly, is as the book written by Marguerite Hoetsch, portrays the story. To be shown at the Mazda Wednesday and Thursday.

The Auditorium. The big screen event of the summer season will be the appearance today and tomorrow at the Auditorium of that famous vampire artist.

THEDA BARA. In the great Fox play, "Under Two Flags," at the Auditorium today and tomorrow.

Theda Bara, who is seen in the Wm. Fox production of Quida's international famous novel, "Under Two Flags," Miss Bara is seen as Clarette, the Daughter of the Regiment, and does some really wonderfully acting in the part. The company producing the play is one of the best Fox companies and many celebrated actors and actresses are seen. The scenery laid in Egypt is elaborate, the scenic effects being wonderful. Theda Bara, always popular with Newark audiences, should be greeted by large houses during the two days showing of this wonderful feature.

Friday and Saturday the Auditorium will have Wm. Hart in The Triangle wonder play "The Primal Lust." The cast is a strong one and supporting Mr. Hart will be Margery Wilson, Robert McKim, Jerome Storm and others. This play together with a laugh making Keystone will make up a really meritorious Auditorium entertainment.

"The Social Follies." Yesterday's Ohio State Journal had the following to say of "The Social Follies" which will appear at the Auditorium in this city next Monday afternoon and evening. "Every seat sold for both performances of 'The Social Follies' at the Lyceum Theater Monday was."

The members of the company made many friends while rehearsing in this city, all of whom will wish them, together with Miss Boyer the greatest of successes in the seasons to come.

Goods Ordered In 1886 Arrive 30 Years Later

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Charleston, W. Va., Aug. 23.—James C. Matthews, while a resident of Tarboro, N. C., in 1886, ordered two drum heads from a New York musical supply concern. At the time he was a member of a minstrel company and when the supplies did not reach him at Tarboro, he left instructions for them to be forwarded. The package containing the drum heads was received by mail by him here yesterday encased in the original wrapper. The postmark showed it had been mailed shortly after the order was sent but there was nothing to indicate where it had been during that time.

B. & O. TRAIN FOR SEEING NEWARK'S INDUSTRIAL ZONE

The directors and officers of the Chamber of Commerce, and also of the Rotary club, and several other business organizations in the city, have received invitations from Donald F. Stevens, local superintendent of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, to be the guests of the B. & O. company on a visit to the various manufacturing plants in Newark.

The trip which is scheduled to be made on September 5, will be known as "Seeing Newark's Industrial Zone" and will be made in a special train of B. & O. observation cars.

Superintendent Stevens is anxious to show the officials of the various business organizations in the city, what excellent industries Newark possesses. The trip will be unique from the fact that the party will ride in observation cars to visit the various plants, instead of autos.

In outlining the trip today, Acting Superintendent C. H. Titus said that the company was planning to take the party first to the Weiant plant east of town, and then returning, visit every part of the city where the B. & O. touches manufacturing plants.

It is probable the party will be able to visit the A. H. Heisey glass plant in East Newark, which is located along the Pennsylvania tracks. Mr. Titus stated that he would take the matter up with O. C. Parrill of the Pennsylvania lines, regarding the B. & O. special making a visit to the Heisey plant.

The Chamber of Commerce directors at their regular meeting Monday night were delighted with Superintendent Stevens' invitation and already are looking forward to "seeing Newark's Industrial Zone."

O. S. U. Professor Explores Crater Alaska Volcano

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Kodiak, Alaska, Aug. 23.—The main crater of Katmai volcano is one of the greatest in the world, according to a statement made today by Prof. Robert F. Griggs, of the department of botany at Ohio State University, who has reached Kodiak after a careful study of the volcano, in the interests of the American Geographic Society. "This crater," he said, "is miles across and extends down thousands of feet to a blue-green lake, shimmering and spluttering at the bottom."

Prof. Griggs was accompanied on the expedition by Lucius G. Folsom, principal of the Kodiak schools and Donovan Church, a student at Ohio State University. This is the first close examination by scientists that has been made of the volcano since the great eruption June 19, 1912, when the top of the mountain was blown off and Kodiak island was covered with a foot of volcanic ashes.

"Other craters in the group have been reported as the main crater of Katmai," said Mr. Griggs, "but these do not compare with the real thing. The claim of natives that the top of the high mountain was blown off we found to be literally true. Our first visit was made July 19, and a second July 30. The day was clear and the ascent over the mud and ice drainage ditches was difficult but the wall of the crater was such that we could stand on the rim and see sulphur patches and steam jets hissing through crevices."

The explorers said the most wonderful of all sights at the crater was a place where a glacier blown in two by the eruption, still formed part of the crater wall, the intense heat being insufficient to melt this palisade of ice. Part of the crater wall is composed of igneous rock of brilliant color.

To prevent skidding and slipping in damp weather the streets of San Francisco are sanded by a machine mounted on a motor truck.

The net investment of the United States reclamation service at the beginning of the present fiscal year was approximately $100,000,000.

"I DON'T SUFFER ANY MORE"

"Feel Like a New Person," says Mrs. Hamilton.

New Castle, Ind.—"From the time I was eleven years old until I was seventeen I suffered each month so I had to be in bed. I had headache, backache and such pains I would cramp double every month. I did not know what it was to be easy a minute. My health was all run down and the doctors did not do me any good. A neighbor told my mother about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I took it, and now I feel like a new person. I don't suffer any more and I am regular every month." — Mrs. HAZEL HAMILTON, 822 South 15th St.

Porterhouse Steak, and Other Beef Products Are Soaring in Price

PORTERHOUSE steak is high priced. Millions of people in this country eat beef in one form or another, daily. Even part of the "roast beef of Old England" is supplied from our large ranches.

Thousands of head of cattle are daily sacrificed to supply the rapidly growing demand.

The Southern Cattle Feeding Company, an Ohio corporation, owns and operates in northern Florida, a sixty thousand acre cattle and hog ranch. On the ranch, which was purchased for an exceedingly small figure, there are thousands of acres of ideal pasture land. Over these pastures cattle and hogs graze for nine months of the year, held in by 125 miles of fencing. Three thousand acres are divided into feeding units, which are planted with forage crops, and during the remaining three months—Florida's short, dry winter—the stock is turned into the units, where it harvests the crops. The expense of stock-raising is only a small percentage of the cost in other parts of the country. The profits are correspondingly higher.

Mr. S. E. Strode, who was for two terms

Dairy and Food Commissioner of Ohio, and has been identified with the cattle and hog industry, all of his life, is the President of the company, and associated with him are men of long experience and expert knowledge of the industry, both in the north and in the State of Florida.

Armour & Company, by building a $1,000,000 packing plant, within 30 miles of this company's lands, have settled all doubts regarding cattle and hog raising in Florida.

The 7% participating, preferred, non-taxable stock of The Southern Cattle Feeding Company is being offered for sale, at par, although were it not for our contract, which absolutely protects our clients in this respect, it would be soaring above that figure. The stock is a first lien upon all of the company's earnings, as no bonds can be issued ahead of it. Its value is further increased by the participating clause, a feature which enables the stock-holder to share in all profits of the company above 7%.

An interesting booklet, describing the work on the ranch, and the possibilities of the future, will be sent to any interested inquirer.

NEW RECORD

FOR STALLION RACE BY LEE AXWORTHY IN EXHIBITION AT NORTH RANDALL.

Maple Track and St. Frisco Will Oppose Each Other in Today's 2:00 Test

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Cleveland, Aug. 23.—While the resumption of hostilities between Mabel Frisk and St. Frisco in the western reserve 2:08 trot is the big feature of today's card at North Randall, another great day of racing is expected. The card for today's races follows:

2:11 trot, purse $1200, 2:15 pace, purse $1200, Western Reserve 2:08 trot state $3000; 2:07 pace, purse $1200.

While two favorites were winners yesterday, surprises were plenty, outsiders and "dark" horses getting their share of the glory.

In addition to some exceptionally fast racing and some hard-fought battles, the crowd of 3000 was thrilled when Lee Axworthy trotted an exhibition mile in 2:09, breaking the world's record for stallions by three-quarters of a second. The record, 2:01, was held by The Harvester.

Chas. Valentine and Sister Strong gave the talent a bumping in the 2:15 trot, Sister Strong winning the first two heats and the race in handy fashion although the third heat was taken by Brescia, the favorite.

Diameter, the favorite in the 2:12 pace had little trouble in winning the two opening miles and the race, but in the third heat Tommy Murphy, with The Problem, shot across in the lead and got second place.

In the Glenville 2-year-old trot, Harrods Creek, a Kentucky colt and the favorite, made the raffle in two straight heats, Maple Tree giving him some hot competition, but he won the mile, but after that was unable to get in front.

Summary:

2:11 trot, purse $1200: Sister Strong, b. m. by Strong Boy (Valentine) 1 1 1; Brescia, b. m. (Robney) 2 2 2; Royal Hall, blk. h. (J. Fleming) 3 3 3.

2:15 pace, purse $1200: Ceastess Model, b. m. (Cox) 1 1 1; The Problem, blk. h. (Murphy) 2 2 2; Royal Hall, blk. h. (J. Fleming) 3 3 3.

2:08 trot, purse $3000: Mabel Frisk, b. m. (Robney) 1 1 1; St. Frisco, b. m. (Robney) 2 2 2; Royal Hall, blk. h. (J. Fleming) 3 3 3.

2:07 pace, purse $1200: The Problem, blk. h. (Murphy) 1 1 1; Wilbur S. ch. h. (Goshell) 2 2 2; Annual Dancer, blk. h. (Snow) 3 3 3.

Other starters were: Handy Jim, Hanks Bellini and Baymax.

Time—2:08, 2:09, 2:09.

The Glenville, 2-year-old trot, value $1230: Harrods Creek, ch. c. by Gen. Watts (Eggleman) 1 1 1; Maple Tree, b. c. (Murphy) 2 2 2; Jack Moore, br. c. (McDonald) 3 3 3.

Time—2:11, 2:10, 2:10.

2:05 class, pacing, purse $1200: Fly Richmond, 2 c. by New Richmond (J. A.) 1 1 1; Judge Ormond, blk. h. (Valentine) 2 2 2; Fred Russell, 2 c. (Snow) 3 3 3.

GERMAN CROPS FAVORABLE.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Berlin, August 23.—(By wireless to Sayville.)—The Tageblatt says that the favorable crop forecasts are being borne out fully and that cereals are being obtained throughout Germany. Fodder also is plentiful. The potato crop however probably is inferior to that of last year owing to the excessive rains. Sugar production has increased.

All things are possible, except perhaps to make a lion of a man who has already made an ass of himself.

Joe Boehling.

The signing of Joe Boehling, southpaw hurler, with Moeller of the Washington Senators is thought by the Cleveland Indians' owner to promise a faster clip in their dash for the rag. Boehling and Moeller joined the team at once. Elmer Smith, outfielder, and Joe Leonard, infielder, went to Washington in exchange for Griff's pen.

FOR OVER FORTY YEARS SMOKERS INTERESTED IN A NATIONAL FAVORITE CIGARETTE DEMONSTRATION

Sweet Caporal cigarettes have been on the market for over four decades, and are more popular today than ever. This wonderful record has never been duplicated by any other cigarette. In all these years countless brands of cigarettes have come and gone, but Sweet Caporal keeps on gaining in favor year after year.

There has never been a more striking demonstration of cigarette popularity than the novel burning tests of Sweet Caporal cigarettes now being given by a trained corps of demonstrators. These men first burn a piece of ordinary paper and then call smokers' attention to the heavy smoke, odor, and black, soot-like ash.

They next produce a roll of the high-grade, imported French cigarette paper used on Sweet Caporal cigarettes and burn a piece of this paper. It burns evenly, completely, and leaves only a few particles of pure white ash. This explains the pure tobacco flavor of Sweet Caporal.

That is one reason for the phenomenal popularity of Sweet Caporal Cigarettes. No other cigarette has ever duplicated the pure tobacco flavor of Sweet Caporal—the mellow, sweet, natural taste of ripe tobacco. That is why smokers always come back to Sweet Caporal—no other cigarette gives them the same enjoyment.

That is the wonderful tribute paid to the pure tobacco flavor of Sweet Caporal.

SMOKED BY THOUSANDS OF PHYSICIANS

Sweet Caporal cigarettes are the favorite brand of medical men everywhere. Over fifteen thousand physicians in the United States are Sweet Caporal smokers. No greater tribute could be paid to the purity of Sweet Caporal cigarettes than this. Physicians know Sweet Caporal is good, pure tobacco—that is why they smoke "Sweet."

and the railroad executives seemed to be in the way of an agreement. The three railroad presidents who at the White House last night left with President Wilson a comparative statement of the estimated cost of extending an eight-hour to all railroad employees and employees in industrial concerns throughout the country, with the request that the President examine them carefully. The railroad presidents take the position that extension of the eight-hour day to railroad trainmen eventually means that it must be extended to all other railroad workers and to many of those in industrial pursuits. Before the meeting of all the executives of eight today it became apparent that there would be some difficulty in getting all the presidents to agree to any counter proposals which involve an eight-hour day with ten-hours pay. Telegrams have been received by several presidents from shippers on their lines urging a stand against the eight-hour day on the ground that in the last analysis it will mean an increase in freight rates. So far as the bankers' interests in the roads are concerned, one president of a big eastern road said today that instead of urging the presidents to accede to the White House demands bankers were for the most part using their influence to support the executives in their instance upon arbitration. Some of the executives who might be expected to agree to the White House plan for settlement of the difficulty are said to fear that President Wilson cannot give any positive assurance that the roads will recoup for the additional burden of the eight-hour day.

President Wilson plans to see Senator Newlands and Representative Adamson again, probably late today and expects to receive another call from the committee of the railroad executives some time before tomorrow. There were many indications that the railroad presidents were considering the eight-hour day on the conditions that some definite assurance be given them that future disputes be arbitrated.

President Wilson summoned Senator Newlands and Representative Adamson, chairman of senate and house commerce committee, to the white house this morning. It is understood he planned to discuss with them legislation on the railroad strike situation. Under the President's plan for the settlement of the railroad dispute congress would create a commission to investigate the working of the eight-hour day and collateral issues. The men, tired of the delay, due to the railroad representatives prolonged discussion of President Wilson's plan, gave free expression to their opinions at today's meeting. The men felt that the railroads showed a disposition to disregard their sacrifice of the demand for time and a half over time.

A. R. Garretson advised them to be patient and assured them that decisive action was soon expected. Mr. Garretson refused to comment on the situation other than to say: "It is in the hands of the President—until he acts there is nothing for us to say or do."

Other leaders did not hesitate to say, however, that plans have been prepared for instant action in case the railroad managers decline to accept the president's proposal.

INSIST UPON ARBITRATION.

Louisville, Aug. 23.—Resolutions opposing any plan to grant without arbitration the demand of railroad trainmen for an eight-hour day as a basis of compensation, adopted at a special meeting late yesterday of the board of directors of the Louisville board of trade, have been forwarded to President Wilson. 71 YEARS IN BUSINESS

EFFICIENCY

OF AMERICAN YOUTH IS RESTRICTED BY USE OF TOBACCO, CO. SAYS DR. KRESS.

Details Results of Extensive Investigation of Cigarette Habit for Benefit of County Teachers.

Dr. D. H. Kress of Washington, D. C., medical secretary of the Columbia Union Conference of Seventh-day Adventists, who spoke Monday evening to a great host of people at the Adventist camp at Moundbuilders Park on "Infantile Paralysis," delivered an address yesterday on "Vital Efficiency, or What is the Matter with the Young American?" before the Licking County Teachers' Institute in the High School Auditorium.

The doctor's address was most interesting, and at the same time, a most startling one. The cigarette is a great evil in our land, one that is making men look the future in the face with great concern, was handed by the doctor without gloves. He said in part:

"Only 60 per cent of the pupils entering the public schools of America succeed in reaching the second year of high school. Forty per cent for some reason drop out. The boards of education seem unable to say why this is and feel greatly perplexed.

In the city of Chicago it was recently found that there were more boys than girls in the schools up to the eighth grade. In the high schools, there were many more girls than boys. It is evident that the great majority of the 40 per cent who drop out are boys. The question arises, Why do so many more boys than girls drop out of school? In our business colleges, as a rule, there are two young women to every young man. The higher up we get in our educational institutions the greater the percentage of young women as compared with the young men.

The Kansas City school board, in a test recently conducted to ascertain the efficiency of the pupils, discovered that boys were less accurate than were girls of the same age. At every age boys made many more errors than girls. The average number of errors made by boys was also found, increased with the age. The question which is puzzling the Kansas City school board is, Why should boys make more errors than girls, and why should the percentage of errors increase with the age of the pupils? We will not attempt to answer any of these questions at this point, but let us leave the schools and other institutions of learning and follow our boys and girls as they enter upon their life work.

Recently in Berlin shown through a large manufactory in your state, Ohio, where several thousand young men and young women are employed, a few passed into one department or another. In this department we employ only young women. The work of such a delicate nature that young men can not do it. I said to him, 'Why is it that the young men are not capable of doing this delicate work?' He replied, 'I do not know.' It reminded me, however, of a statement made by Mr. Luther Burbank of California, the great plant wizard; the man who has done more than any other living man in developing and improving fruits and plants. The work of breeding connected with his work is of an extremely delicate nature, and requires great delicacy of touch, as well as mental concentration. Burbank says 'men who smoke one cigar a day cannot be trusted with some of my most delicate work.' These men, while able to do the rough work of farming, call breeding and other delicate work, and have to give it up owing to an inability to concentrate their nerve force.' He goes on to say that which every intelligent man of today knows, 'cigarettes are even more damaging than cigars.' If one cigar smoked daily, unfits a man for doing work of great delicacy, what effect must fifteen, twenty, or thirty cigarettes have on the boy who is still undeveloped? In Los Angeles county the supervisor of Compulsory Education said: 'Seventy-five per cent of the boys over eleven years of age smoke.' There are many cities where 50 per cent of the boys are cigarette smokers.

The boy who smokes is unable to concentrate his mind. He cannot command the nerve strain connected with the close application of the mind. He becomes nervous and restless, and after a time he loses his interest in books altogether.

Everywhere today, manufacturers recognize that cigarette smokers are less efficient and less reliable than those who do not smoke. Go into our city offices, where speed, accuracy and efficiency are demanded, and you will find that work is being done more and more by young women.

Young men who are addicted to this habit are not much in demand anywhere, and the time is not far distant when it will be practically impossible for a cigarette smoker to secure any position of responsibility. Under the immediate stimulus of the cigarette there are those who are able to do good work, but they wear out early and usually end up in a sanitarium for treatments.

There can be no question but that the prevalent use of the cigarette during the past ten years has tremendously lowered the physical as well as the mental efficiency of our young men. Between July of 1914 and May of 1915, a period of eleven months, out of 150,000 who applied to enter the United States army 117,000 were unable to pass even the preliminary tests. Five thousand and five hundred of the remaining number were later rejected by the medical examining board as unfit. Only 36,242 out of the entire number of applicants were capable of passing all the requirements. These were not the young men who were considered infirm or physically impaired in health. They were the best America had to offer as defenders of the nation, and yet almost four out of five were actually unfit. This shows such a startling deterioration in the quality of our young American manhood that it constitutes a national peril. If this degeneracy continues the United States will be forced in the near future to lower the standard of requirements for the army and navy.

Mr. Rittenhouse, president of the Life Extension Institute of New York, said that in one large insurance company 43 per cent of those who applied for insurance were rejected. These insurance companies in order to do business will be compelled in the near future to increase the rate of their policies, or go out of business.

England appreciates the evil effects of this habit upon her young men and also upon her national life. But she seems unable to check the evil. Sir Brampton Gordon said a few years ago, 'the evil effects of the growing habit among boys of smoking cigarettes can scarcely be exaggerated. It is a habit which leaves the rising generation deteriorated in physique. If in 10 or 15 years hence we should have the misfortune to engage in a great war, this habit among our youth would tell against us.' The battle is now on, and without doubt it is telling against Great Britain.

Several years ago a new superintendent of the United States Naval Academy of Annapolis requested the government to appoint a commission of scientific men to ascertain whether there were adequate reasons for the existence of a rule against smoking by the younger men, a regulation which it seems had been entirely ignored. A certain number of smokers and non-smokers were put through the following tests: Muscle strength, heart strength and capacity for study. The average results obtained were greatly in favor of the non-smokers. To verify the findings, tobacco was then withheld from the smokers for a time, and again they were tested, with the result that muscle strength, heart strength and capacity for study were all increased. The rule against smoking was then enforced. Smoking was afterwards prohibited also at the Military Academy at West Point. The class of diseases, as headache, disordered digestion, malaria, etc., diminished at least one-half in the first three months.

Restricted smoking has again been permitted at West Point, but merely because the severest penalties failed in shutting it out. The superintendent at West Point, in giving his reasons for revoking this regulation said: 'I found that the majority of the cadets who used tobacco before entering the Academy continued its use afterwards and some even acquired the habit here. The enforcement of the regulation caused many of the cadets to resort to unsoldierly subterfuges and in some cases to dishonorable deceptions in order to evade it. No proper effort is spared to discourage the use of tobacco, and to make known the harm resulting therefrom.

In America, as in England, we seem to stand helpless before the onward march of this practice which is disabling and ruining our boys and future men and fathers. America today consumes more tobacco per capita than any other nation in the world. Twelve hundred boys not yet in their teens form the habit daily. Last year America paid out over one billion one hundred million dollars for tobacco alone. The sum paid out for tobacco is sufficient to pay for all our public and private school education and in addition one million dollars daily could be applied towards improvements and equipments. No nation can long survive whose boys and men are so universally addicted to this drug. Emperor Wilhelm evidently recognized this when in addressing his cadets a few years ago, said: 'In the next great battle, the nation which consumes the least alcohol will win.' In America tobacco, because of its prevalent use by boys, is doing as much as alcohol, if not more toward lowering the efficiency of the young men.

Japan appreciated the influence of tobacco smoking upon the national life. Over 16 years ago a bill was introduced in the house of representatives in Japan, prohibiting the use of tobacco in any form before the age of twenty years.

Japan is at least awake, to this peril, if America is not.

The institute program yesterday afternoon included a lecture by Professor Freeman on the 'Mission of the Ballad.' He advocated the use of ballads in the public grammar schools and very feelingly gave several illustrations. Professor Freeman gave 'The Days Gone By' by James Whitcomb Riley, 'High Tide at Gettysburg' by Thompson and 'Excelsior' and 'The Wreck of the Hesperus' by Longfellow.

Professor Clifton lectured on 'Arithmetic in the Elementary Grades.' Prof. Clifton cautioned the teachers against attempting to go too fast and said accuracy should be gained first and that speed would come later.

ADVENTISTS

CARRY ON EXTENSIVE MISSION WORK AMONG THE HEATHENS OF INDIA.

Elder Enoch of Bombay Tells Conference Audience of His Work There—Thousands Hear of Christ.

Elder G. F. Enoch, of Bombay, India, who has spent 16 years in the mission fields, gave an interesting missionary talk and stereopticon lecture to a large audience at the Adventist camp at the park last night. He took for his text Matthew 24: 14. "This gospel of the kingdom shall be preached in all the world for a witness unto all nations and then shall the end come." These words of the Master were spoken nearly 2000 years ago. This generation is now seeing their fulfillment. Missionaries numbering 2,500 from Christian lands are giving their lives for the preaching of the gospel of the kingdom in non-Christian lands. These workers have united with them 125,000 native workers. The Bible, or portions of the Bible, are translated into more than 600 languages, and the number is increasing each year.

We shall speak tonight particularly of India, the great Gibraltar of heathenism. India has a population of 315,000,000 people, divided into many races, speaking more than 100 languages; that is, a population twice as much as North and South America combined. It is a country of great, busy seaports, magnificent buildings, and thousands of miles of railways. The many railways and postoffices reaching every part of this country are but part of the ways of our God for the fulfillment of our text.

Really, India is divided into many religious beliefs. There are nine prominent religions. Two-thirds of the population are Hindus. About one-fifth are Mohammedan, besides many other minor religions. The story of the religious experience of the people of India is the story of a great search. The people place themselves in all sorts of ways in their endeavor to find God. They travel hundreds of miles to worship at some shrine or bathe in the sacred waters. Instead of washing away their sins, they return to their homes with the same sinful hearts.

Our mission work in India is carried on along various lines. We have hundreds of children gathered in our mission schools. It is surprising to see how rapidly these children born in a heathen environment develop mentally and spiritually when placed in Christian schools.

We also have a large number of dispensaries that are doing heroic service in the name of the Master. For example, at Kalyan, India, about thirty-five miles from Bombay, your speaker rented a building in one of the darkest communities I have ever seen. We opened a school, and also a dispensary. Mrs. Dr. Wood and her assistants have treated more than 50,000 cases in this one dispensary in the last three years. Those people came from a hundred villages, and some of them came a hundred miles, and they were afflicted with every sort of disease from simple ailments to smallpox, bubonic plague and leprosy. When you understand that a girl is disgraced if she is not married by the time she is 13 years old, and that there are many little girls in India who are mothers at 13 years of age; and, further, without the most elementary knowledge of the cause of sickness or disease, or the simplest rules for its treatment, you will understand a little of what the treatment of these 50,000 cases in three years has accomplished. Many people have become Christians, and the largest Sabbath school we have in India is at this place. We are also circulating hundreds of thousands of pages of literature in the different languages of India. We have about 100 foreign missionaries in India. If we pass around Malasia and the Philippines, Japan, Korea, and China, we will find another large company of missionaries speaking many different languages and working for the peoples of these various lands.

There are altogether about 5000 baptized Seventh-day Adventists in the Orient. We baptized 1000 last year, and this year will far exceed that number. We have baptized more than 300 in the Philippines alone since the beginning of the year. In San Pablo, not many miles from Manila, 171 have been baptized since we began meetings there early in the spring.

There was paid into our treasury in the Orient last year about $30,000 in tithes and offerings.

This next year will be by far the year of the greatest ingathering of souls since the days of the apostles. It shows clearly that the spirit of God has descended among the children of men and both at home and abroad is doing the work which is the fulfillment of our text. In just a little time from this, this gospel of the kingdom will have been preached in all the world. Then the end will come.

At the conference session reports were heard from the Mount Vernon Academy Association. Professor N. S. Ashton, president of the Academy, submitted a most encouraging one.

The Academy is self-supporting, and even showed a large gain over its operating expenses. The institution during 1915 was taxed to its utmost.

The Academy is one of a great many educational institutions established all over the world. Not counting their church schools they have 67 intermediate schools, academies, and colleges, showing an investment of over $2,000,000. The enrollment almost reaches 20,000.

Their purpose is to develop workers for the carrying on of their tremendous world-wide work; and the Mount Vernon Academy stands near the top in the matter of supplying the demand.

This evening, Dr. B. G. Wilkinson, of Washington, D. C., will preach at the camp. His subject will be,
